SEARCH ENGINE OPTIMIZATION FOR EXISTING WEBSITES & SEARCH ENGINE OPTIMIZATION FOR NEW BUILD WEB SITES

If you are embarking on your first website, having another new website built or the redesign of an existing website, the most cost effective, time saving route to take is to have the website design and search engine optimization undertaken at the same time by the same company. Few website design companies really understand search engine optimization, which is probably why you are looking at Computer Services USA.

If your business is dependent to any extent on the search engines delivery high levels of meaningful enquiries to your website, you must engage a website design company that understands search engine optimization.

Few website designers create websites with optimization in mind, and as a result, the website can, in most cases, be prevented from being indexed and listed by the important search engines. Your website is therefore most unlikely to appear in the top 40 results of any major search engine for even the lowest competitive key search phrases, even if your existing site has a large number of quality relevant links. Ultimately, you will end up frustrated and disappointed by the level of visitors that your website receives.

Having your website optimized and built at the same time can substantially reduce your initial costs and increase your profitability. Many companies discover that once their website design is completed, it does not perform in the search engines. Taking it to a search engine optimization company, after it has been built, they are often informed that the way, in which the site has been built, it is not search engine friendly and will need re-formatting. Fundamental errors in the way the website designer has constructed the site means the work has to be undone and put back in a way that the search engines can read the information.

We start by asking our clients questions. What are they trying to achieve with their website? What are their client demographics? What are their product lines and services? Who are their competitors? What is their budget?

We do not take on lots of clients who are likely to conflict with existing clients.

We then analyze the most likely keywords people looking for their type of product or service are using in the search engines. Plus we look at the less competitive key words and phrases, because for every one person who is using a competitive key phrase, there will be another using one of the hundreds of lesser-used key phrases.

Because we have spent years and invested heavily in our unique and innovative programs like OMNI-LINK and ALCHEMY, we believe no other optimization company can deliver the same level of traffic as COMPUTER SERVICES USA does to your website. Our systems achieve prolonged results for clients as opposed to the expensive and short-term results of 'pay per click' campaigns or sponsored positions. These systems can prove expensive because of the number of competitors clicking on your pay per click advertisement and because of the myriad of different keywords and phrases website owners have to buy.

Every web design and search engine optimization project we undertake is different. Which is why we take particular attention to every nuance of a website that we construct, enhance, modify, or make recommendations to.

Our motto: "IT'S NOT CREATIVE—UNLESS IT SELLS!"

FYI: WEBSITE RANKING & WHY

In order to make your website a “TOP RANKING WEBSITE” among search engines—it is necessary to professionally analyze your website, and make recommendations accordingly in order to help bring it up to a level to be most effective. Having a website professionally analyzed by “Internet Website Marketing Specialists” is of paramount importance.

There is a reason that some websites are more successful than others. There is nothing “hit & miss” about proper marketing of a website and/or with definite decisions and implementations made with regard to effective website design. There IS a formula, from a marketing aspect, with regard to website design that goes far beyond just creativity as being the key. Therefore, having INTERNET WEBSITE MARKETING PROFESSIONALS analyze and make recommendations are key to having a successful website that realizes website “hits” and market share it should— if properly designed and marketed.

You will find that most website designers are not marketing professionals. They come from more of a “creative” approach rather than marketing one. We believe that a website is not creative unless it sells and receives the “hits (market share)” it should.

The well0-known website from PEPSI®: www.pepsi.com gets over 3 MILLION website “hits” a day. There is no store in any shopping center in the WORLD that gets that many people before its door in any one day.

There is a definite reason and formula why www.pepsi.com is successful. We would like to share that knowledge and expertise with you with having the opportunity to properly analyze, and make the recommendations needed to be competitive.

Therefore, the additional features and services, as iterated below, are part of the SUPER TRAFFIC PACKAGE PLUS we offer that goes far beyond just placing your website URL with search engines on the Internet. Please be advised—before submitting your website to search engines on the Internet—make sure that your website is 100% as effective as it can be from a standardization and formulated aspect.

Most of the time you only have one chance to capture a website user enough to have them keep coming back to the website- which is the ultimate goal. If everything is not in place from the “get go”—most of the time there is no second chance to captivate the end user a 2nd time. Here is what we offer you to help make your website the most effective according to present industry formulas and standards:

WEBSITE ANALYSIS

We will analyze your website from the perspective of a search engine. Every element of your web page will be closely inspected, results in detailed instructions telling you where to make specific changes in your web page. We do not rely on the general guidelines published by the search engines .Our analyzing system is based on the research of thousands of top ranking web pages on the search engines, along with data taken live, in real time, from the top-ranking websites. We compiled this huge amount of data, combined with reverse analyzes of the search engines, into a sophisticated advisory system that is constantly updated by continuous research.

COMPETITIVE ANALYSIS

Query the search engines and take a look at the websites that are listed higher than your own. We will give you the ability to run a comparative analysis of a specific competitor's URL. We will provide you a side-by-side comparison, thus giving you the ability to see what your competitor has that you don't, or what you have that your competitor doesn't.

STATISTICAL ANALYSIS

We will provide you with an exact score of your web page, for each of the properties, elements, keywords and the combination of all. The score is compared with the statistical data we have collected from thousands of highly ranked sites, along with the statistical data of your competitor. We use these scores to provide you with detailed step-by-step instructions of how to optimize your website:

- Times Keyword Found
- Times Variant of Keyword Found
- Total Number of Words
- Keyword Weight
- Keyword Prominence
- Number of immediate Keyword repeats
